water expertise with international demand -
Australian Water
Association's International Program*

The Australian Water Association's International Program provides a platform to connect Australian water products and expertise to markets with high demand.

Outbound trade delegation

We take delegations to the key international water events such as Vietwater, Singapore International Water Week, Indian Water Expo, putting you in front of the people who matter. By joining one of our delegations, you get the benefit of exhibiting under the Australian brand, standing next to other Australian business and showcasing the best of Australia's water capabilities, while gaining support from Australian Water Association and staff from partnering organisations. We also use our connections to facilitate special meetings and events so you have the right conversations.

Inbound water sector tours

The Australian Water Association brings international organisations and individuals interested in Australia's approach to water management, to Australia. Our inbound tours allow Australian water companies to present their services and products to international audiences without the cost and time pressures of travelling overseas.

International exchange program

We facilitate link-ups between our members and those in other markets to share experiences and build capacity locally. By participating in an exchange you will gain a broad understanding of how other markets operate, build relationships and contribute to water management globally. You can also expand your Corporate Social Responsibility program, develop your workforce, and contribute to a global goal of improving sustainable water practices.
